8TH WORLD DAY AGAINST THE DEATH PENALTY JUDICIAL MURDERS – MEDICAL MURDERS

The Lega Nazionale Contro la Predazione di Organi e la Morte a Cuore Battente (translation: National League Against the Predation of Organs and Death with a Beating Heart) urges countries to put a stop not only to inhumane judicial sentences, but also and above all to the medical sentences of “brain death”, finalised in cruel and brutal explants.

The death sentence has to be condemned always and in any case because it is indicative of institutional brutality. So why do you condemn the death penalty upon its so-called delinquents, yet accept and not condemn the authoritarian sentences of “brain death” declared on innocent people who have lost consciousness because of cerebral damage due to accidents or illness? This sentence is at the total discretion/abuse of the doctors, with no defender present.

Do you know that the declaration of “brain death” is a pretence imposed on the basis of variable State protocols? A useful pretence in the affairs of replacement surgery (explant/transplant), introduced to protect doctors and surgeons who butcher from the throat to the pubis just for organ procurement, with a beating heart and without anaesthesia. In so doing, they kill, yet they do not go to jail or to the electric chair (where one exists) because State law protects them, in the same way the law of certain countries still protects judges and executioners.

Yet the executioner has more dignity than these doctors and surgeons, as his ability consists of rapid execution, whilst doctors and surgeons who explant bring about death by torture, whether it is by prolonging the agony while they search for the recipient, or by keeping the patient alive under paralysing treatment, for a number of hours while they empty/butcher him or her as though he or she were a “pig of which nothing is thrown away”.

Many death-row prisoners have been found to be innocent after execution. Those with head injuries considered “done for”, torn apart by the hands of those sadistic scavengers and straight away are given targeted treatment (drainage etc.), could be saved, indeed some have been saved despite being considered “brain death”.

It is demonstrated that social class has a strong influence over who is condemned to death and who is declared “brain dead” for spare parts.

It is time to shout to the world this disgrace; only wicked people can strike someone dead with such ease, both those who are sequestered in “intensive care” and those who are sequestered in prison.
